Words for Meditation

"Jesus didn't say we have to like our enemies. Love is greater than like. The love Jesus calls us to practice is not a feeling. It's a way of seeing others the way God sees them that prevents us from hating the enemy, even as we might hate what the enemy has done. This is what Jesus means when he says, 'Love your enemy.'"

~ Rev. Mark Feldmeir

Scripture

Matthew 5:43–48

Today's Takeaways

1. Jesus calls us to _____ from the crowd by committing to an _____.
2. God knows there is some _____ within the _____ of us and some _____ within the _____ of us.
3. We can love our enemies not because they are _____, but because they are _____.

Today's Questions

1. Has anyone ever told you that you were underachieving or not living up to your full potential and that it was time for you to up your game?
2. Can you think of someone who is very difficult to "like" but whom God is still calling you to love?
