Today we are excited to welcome Bishop Kristin Stoneking to the pulpit. Bishop Stoneking began her ministry as a campus minister at the University of California, then served as the national executive director of the US branch of the historic Fellowship of Reconciliation (FOR), an anti-racist, justice and peace organization with consultative status at the United Nations. She later pastored churches in Kansas and Northern California, and served as a District Superintendent and as Director of Innovative Ministries and Congregational Vitality for the California-Nevada Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church.

Bishop Stoneking is a graduate of Rice University (B.A.) and Garrett-Evangelical Theological Seminary (M.Div.) and earned her Ph.D. at the Graduate Theological Union. She and her spouse, Elizabeth, have two young adult children, John and Paloma.

Today's service is available on YouTube at gostandrew.com/online.

Current Sermon Series:

Dispatches from Cell 92: Bonhoeffer on Faith and Resistance

Some call him a martyr. Others, a spy and assassin. But before his arrest and execution by the Nazis in 1945, Dietrich Bonhoeffer was a pastor and theologian whose writings on Christianity have become more relevant today than ever. In this six-part series, we'll explore Bonhoeffer's thoughts on grace, faith, responsibility, and resistance for clues about how we might live out our faith in ways that make a difference in today's world. The series includes an all-church book study and documentary film discussion.
